R. Millsip

'Students completed a combustion practical to demonstrate safe practise during Science investigations (Luke Davern) and students completed the combustion practical to develop their investigation skills (Ava and Alfie). All showed excellent practical skills and the confidence to complete a practical independently'.

'The following year 11 students are showing the 'right attitude for success' by regularly taking extra work home with them or by attending extra lessons. (Lauren Condron, Siana Morrison, Abby Evans, Charlotte Lovelady and Kallon Wishart).

- A big shout out to Kyle Potter for his consistent hard work and high standard of work.
- A big shout out to Mason Hill, Leighton Temple and Fabian Kirkwood for their effort completing electrical circuit investigations as part of their GCSE course'.

R. Lyon

'KS3 completed an investigation into the best way to wash hands to reduce the risk of food poisoning. The students used Germaglo powder by sprinkling a small amount on their hands then moved around the room touching different surfaces. Later they used UV/Blacklight and the Germaglo powder which glowed in the dark bright green. All the students were fully engaged and thoroughly enjoyed this food hygiene experiment'.

This half term, KS2 have been developing their science enquiry skills, focusing on the digestive system in humans and animals and the functions of teeth. They will also be learning about herbivores, carnivores and omnivores in the context of teeth, digestion and the food chain. This week they have started to identify and name parts of the human digestive system and their functions.

Students completing a combustion practical to demonstrate safe practise during Science investigations (Luke Davern) and students completing the combustion practical to develop their investigation skills (Ava and Alfie). All showed excellent practical skills and the confidence to complete a practical independently.

Our STAR group have shown great team work and kindness since the beginning of term – we are very proud of you all!

- Thank you to all of our students for wearing the correct uniform, you all look very smart.
- There will be opportunities to participate in JLT and Student Voice projects over the next few weeks – watch this space!!
- Mrs Riley is looking forward to sharing cake with four selected students who have shown outstanding attendance.
